2126 SPARKe 70 White mobile workstation

The Spark 70 White ergonomic desk is flexibly tailored to the customer's needs. It is well suited for example as a workstation in a medicine room and for industrial assembly and quality control.

This is a great option for workstations where easy adjustment gives you benefits, for example when changing shifts. The height can be adjusted quickly and silently with a lightening gas spring. The display is also quick to install and adjust for each user.

The desk provides good support for stand-up work and meets the ergonomics requirements for display and stand-up work. The display, keyboard and mouse are all on the same level. The worktop supports hands while using the keyboard and mouse. This achieves an ergonomic and shoulder-friendly working position.

The Spark workstation is lightweight and well-balanced, with a refined design that focuses on workstation safety and ease of use.
